Walmart Issues Statement on Herbal Supplement Investigation

The following statement can be attributed to Carmen Bauza, senior vice president of Health & Wellness for Walmart U.S.

“Based on the testing performed by our suppliers we have not found any issues with the relevant products, but in order to comply with the Attorney General’s request we have stopped selling them in New York. We take this matter very seriously and will be conducting side by side analysis because we are 100 percent committed to providing our customers safe products.”
